The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Terauchi (4,758,444 or 4,871,562) as further evidenced by Minifie for reasons of record.

Applicant argues that Terauchi provides a process that includes fine particles and does not remove them. This has been considered but is not persuasive. Coarse particles are removed in Terauchi during the centrifugation step (column 4, lines 24-25). The fine particles in the composition are seen to be soluble because they remain in solution upon centrifugation. Assuming arguendo that this statement is wrong, some insoluble solids are removed from the extract. There is no suggestion that complete removal of the insoluble solids is required in Terauchi.

Claims 1 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Weyersback (5,389,394) as further evidenced by Minifie for reasons of record.

Applicant argues that Weyersback is not directed to a fat/oil rich chocolate drink. This has been considered but is not persuasive because preamble limitations do not carry any weight in process claims.

Applicants' arguments relating to the extraction temperature in Takashi is persuasive. Accordingly this rejection has been dropped.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
